THE LOYALTY FUND

The great moment of the Council Meeting on March 1 came after ReLee (Mallory) Brown's speech on "The Loyalty Fund." With one accord, class secretaries agreed to promote the Loyalty Fund through their classes and to work with the goal "100 per cent of my class giving something gladly each year to Wesleyan."

ReLee (Mallory) Brown, A.B. '26, is treasurer of the Wesleyan Alumnae Association. She spoke to the Council as follows:

The Loyalty Fund is one of the most vital and interesting tasks before the Wesleyan alumnae today. The Loyalty Fund concerns each and every person who has ever come under the wonderful influence of Wesleyan and the Wesleyan spirit. However before one can become deeply interested in a matter she must become informed about this matter.

ReLee (Mallory)
Brown, Treasurer

The first question that naturally arises in the mind of each begins with the word "what." What is the Wesleyan Loyalty Fund? The Wesleyan Loyalty Fund is the fund given each year by the alumnae of the college to show their loyalty to and

What is the Loyalty Fund? ever growing belief in "the oldest and best." This fund takes the place of dues but unlike dues is not a fixed amount. The amount contributed is determined by the giver and will vary from year to year. For instance, this year one may have many financial obligations and feel that she can only give $1, $2, $5, $10 to the fund while next year the family budget may have increased and she can give $35, $50, $100, $500 or even into the thousands.

The contribution made is absolutely voluntary and free will. I feel, however, that it is also obligatory. Each loyal daughter of our Alma Mater is under a sacred obligation to bear her share of the burden for carrying forward the ever increasing influence and greatness of our beloved college. In the life of each "old girl" of Wesleyan there are dreams, memories of school days and wonderful college friendships that she would not sell for all the world's possession. These enriching joys of life have come to us through our alma mater. Will we not show our appreciation of these good gifts by bringing gifts of love and loyalty to the Greater Wesleyan? Would it not be a great thing if 100% of the alumnae would show their allegiance by subscribing to the fund each year

How Is the Fund to be Raised?

How is this fund to be used? The Loyalty Fund is to be given each year as a gift from the alumnae to the college.

How Will the Fund Be Used?

This fund will be directed by the alumnae as seems best to them. Just now and for a number of years the gift will be used in a way that should seem very near and dear to the heart of each alumna—an alumnae building to be erected on the campus at Rivoli. This building will in a peculiar way belong to the alumnae and our sense of ownership will be greatly pleased when dreams come true and we can look at this building and say "This is ours —this is the house we built." After this building is completed the fund will be used for the most pressing needs of the college. Each of us will remember many needs of our college days that couldn't be met because of the lack of funds. What a great privilege for us to be able to give to the Loyalty Fund and help meet these needs for present and future Wesleyannes.

Do you realize that the Loyalty Fund which is made up of comparatively small gifts from the alumnae means just as much to the college as one big (not large but big) gift from a very wealthy person? Each year the Loyalty Fund provides, as someone has well said, a "living endowment" for the college. It would not be so easy for the alumnae to raise a million dollars for the college but if 3,500 alumnae would give $2 a year that would mean $7,000 which would be more than equal to the income from 100,000 dollars.

Why do the Wesleyan alumnae want and need a Loyalty Fund? There are three very important reasons why

Why a Loy- alty Fund?

Wesleyan wants a Loyalty Fund. First: Practically all the larger colleges and universities have a Loyalty Fund. Yale led the way in 1891 and has since been followed by such colleges as Cornell, Dartmouth, Columbia, Brown and Georgia Wesleyan! Second: The Loyalty Fund has been tried and proved by many associations. It is declared by all fund authorities to be the most practical, efficient and best plan for the handling of alumnae finance. The Loyalty Fund places the burden on all, not just a few, and gives each a chance to participate in the alumnae activities. It also affords splendid opportunity for the expression of gratitude to our alma mater for her many good gifts. Third: This mutual sharing of the financial burden of the college will keep the alumnae informed about the college, her activities, growth and needs. This financial responsibility will also increase alumnae interest and devotion. We must remember with the writer of old that "where your treasure is, there your heart is also."

What has Wesleyan already done toward the Loyalty Fund? The Wesleyan Loyalty

What Has Wesleyan Done Toward the Fund?

Fund was begun last year by sending the folder "No More Dues" to each alumna asking her not for dues but for a loyalty contribution. Over and above the $1 which was taken from each gift to be used for the most popular of all Wesleyan publications — The Alumnae Magazine — there was a gift of $157 from the 3,500 Wesleyan alumnae! This is a startling fact to each Wesleyan alumna and also a fact that one cannot be very proud of. Less than 200 subscribers out of an alumnae body of 3,500!

Do you belong to the gallant 200? Won't you join the ranks and make it a gallant 3,500? Mrs. Itura R. Leigh of Grantville, Ga. has set an example for all. Last year she returned her "No More Dues" slip saying she would give $10 or more the first of every January as long as she lived. Recently she sent a gift of $20 to the alumnae office. She is the first person to make a pledge for an annual contribution. May she be followed by the other 3,499!

Wesleyan can, must, and will increase the number of subscribers to the Loyalty Fund. The Yale Fund began in 1891 with 385 contributors giving $11,015.08. In 1925, 9,350 contributors gave $485,945.25. The increase in 34 years has been 9,000 subscribers and $474,930.17. How can the Wesleyan alumnae increase their loyalty Fund? The first essential is that every alumna shall become informed about the fund so she may become interested. Interest breeds concern and concern among old Wesleyan girls means talk, pep and real results.

The definite responsibility however must be upon each class secretary. The class secretary is responsible for getting over the Loyalty Fund information to each member of her class and for asking each to make a contribution. This information may be given out by letter, folder, phone, or telegraph just as the class secretary deems best. Useful and valuable material will be supplied by the Alumnae Office. Every class member should feel that this is her responsibility not only to Wesleyan but to her class also.

Will you not aid your class secretary by mailing her your subscription immediately? The first class having a 100% subscription list will go down in Wesleyan history as the red letter class for loyalty.

The Loyalty Fund is above all a token of appreciation and love for Wesleyan. Will you not pledge yourself anew to bear your share of the responsibility? If each alumna does this we can say with a deeper and truer meaning, "Thy daughters will be true, faithful, and loyal, Dear Wesleyan, to Thee."

THE FIRST LIFE-TIME LOYALTY FUND CONTRIBUTOR

In 1928, when the Wesleyan Loyalty Fund was mentioned for the first time, Itura (Moreland) Leigh, A.B. '84, Grantville, Ga., sent a check for $10 with the following voluntary pledge:

"Providence permitting I will send you for the Wesleyan Fund ten dollars or more each January for the rest of my life."

In January, 1929, came her check for $20, with this message:

"According to promise, I am enclosing my pledge, to be paid each January for the rest of my life."

This sketch of Itura (Moreland) Leigh was written by Mary Dudley (Fort) Colley, '14, as president of the Grantville Wesleyan Club, and also the daughter-in-law of Mrs. Leigh:

Itura (Moreland) Leigh, better known as Love Moreland of Grantville, Ga., was among the girls of 1883-1884.

She was married to James W. Colley in 1885. Four sons blessed this union, two of whom have been called above. She was left a widow early in life, and later was married to S. E. Leigh.

Many and varied have been the activities for good of this splendid Christian character. Outstanding among these was the presentation to the North Georgia Conference of the M. E. Church of the first home for superannuated ministers. This home is kept up in first class condition by "Love Moreland Leigh" and is one of her heart's treasures.

When people of Grantville speak of this former Wesleyan girl it is with genuine love, for she is a friend to all, both white and black.

She is the proud grandmother of four grandchildren, three boys and one girl. This little girl, Henrietta Hughes Colley, is the only girl in the Colley family for 146 years. When asked where she was going to college the other day, Henrietta quickly replied,

"To Wesleyan; that is the only girl's college in the whole world." She is only eight, this granddaughter, but she loves Wesleyan with an inherited love from her paternal, maternal, and eternal grandmothers and mother.

Love (Moreland) Colley Leigh has pledged to contribute to Wesleyan yearly for the remainder of her life. It is the spirit of Wesleyan echoed in lives like that of the subject of this sketch that makes Wesleyan what it is and has been, "the Oldest and Best."

SUMMER STUDY IN ENGLAND

The University of Cambridge offers courses in the summer session especially designed for graduates of American colleges and universities who wish to gain a real understanding of English life and institutions.

The session will be held for four weeks, beginning July 23 and closing August 20. For those who cannot stay the full time, the session will be divided into two sections,—Part I from July 23 to August 6, and Part II from August 6 to 20.

There will be two principal subjects of study, history and English literature, each of which will be treated in courses of lectures.

Enquiries concerning any phase of this summer school session may be addressed to: Stephen P. Duggan, Ph.D., LL.D., Director, The Institute of International Education, 2 West 45th St., New York, N. Y.

MATHEMATICS CONFERENCE AT WESLEYAN

The Southeastern Section of the National

Mathematical Association held an annual convention at Wesleyan April 19 and 20. About fifty people, including teachers from surrounding colleges and mathematical club and faculty of Wesleyan attended the business sessions. Dr. C. A. Bruce, head of the department of Mathematics and Dr. Frederick Wood, formerly head of this department, were instrumental in bringing this conference to Macon.

Dr. Ernest Lane of the University of Chicago was the main speaker and honor guest at the dinner held at the college Friday evening. Speakers on Saturday's program were as follows: Prof. E. P. Lane, Chicago University; Prof. David F. Barrow, University of Georgia; Prof. W. W. Elliott, Duke University; Prof. H. A. Robinson, Agnes Scott College.

Professor A. B. Morton of Georgia Tech presided. The secretary, Prof. W. A. Rankin of Duke University, was unable to attend because of illness, but it was through his influence that the programs were planned.

Monday, May 27.

11:00 A. M. Graduating Exercises, Wesleyan campus, Rivoli. Literary Address by Hon. Samuel Candler Dobbs, LL.D. Baccalaureate Address by Dr. W. F. Quillian.

You must come Friday afternoon, May 24, for that Class Reunion, because that's when the fun begins! One alumna described her home-coming as "boisterous greetings, joyous meetings, whirl and bustle, rush and push and jam of everybody trying to find everybody else."

Perhaps your classmates will be waiting at the white-columned loggia to welcome you when you get off the bus, bag and baggage, for the reunion week-end.

You will stay in one of the new dormitory rooms, with your old roommate, if you wish, and your classmates next door and across the hall. And you will find that the new halls and dormitory parlors lend themselves to midnight conversation and reminiscenses just as well as the old halls of Main with their trunks outside each door. (We hate not to be the perfect hostess, but we will not have enough sheets and pillow cases for everybody. Please bring yours, if you do not come from too great a distance.)

On Friday night the play at the Conservatory will begin the Commencement activities, and then you will have a chance to see the old buildings where your college days were spent, to find the spot where this or that thing happened which you will always laugh over.

Saturday is Alumnae Day!

At the business meeting at ten, you will learn all the inner workings of the Alumnae Association. From 12:30 to 1:30 has been given to "Commencement Chapel," the time Reunion Classes call their own. The seniors preside, and each reunion class has a part on the program. The classes plan their part of the program, but it may safely be said that there will be something old and something new, with costumes and music and "when we were in schools." Those who were at Commencement last year will never forget the fifty-year class and those of the year before will remember Jamie (Frederick) McKenzie of '97, with her beflowered hat and her sweeping costume, telling of the "gay nineties."

Macon alumnae of the reunion classes will be invited to be with their classmates for lunch on Saturday at the college. Saturday afternoon until five o'clock may be given to individual class meetings and entertainments. At five, the Alumnae Tea will be held in the college parlors. Graduation exercises at the Conservatory Chapel in town is the event for Saturday night.

Could you miss it?

NOMINEES FOR ALUMNAE TRUSTEE

The following three alumnae are presented as candidates for Alumnae Trustee of Wesleyan to succeed Edith (Stetson) Coleman, A.B. 1897, who completes her three-year term in November of this year:

ALICE BRIMBERRY BUSSEY, A.B. 1878

(Mrs. J. B. Bussey, Cuthbert, Ga.)

We note with pleasure that the name of Alice (Brimberry) Bussey is proposed as one of the candidates for alumnae trustee, and we who have long known and loved her consider this a most felicitous selection. Alice was born in Camilla, Ga., and her introduction to Cuthbert, upon her thirteenth birthday, was celebrated by her winning the prize at an old-fashioned "spelling-bee!" Who says that thirteen is an unlucky number?

This little story, so characteristic of the clear-eyed, yellow-haired "Brim" of our junior days, "just as smart as she could be!", recalls her marvelous quickness in arithmetic, and the wistful, admiring envy of one classmate, who even now counts on her fingers!

Just as skilfully, if elected trustee, will the clear-visioned and fine woman, who has so truly fulfilled her girlhood's promise, unravel the some-time knotty problems of her beloved Alma Mater. To their solving, she will bring a pleasing personality, rare poise, ripe judgment, clear insight, and a vast capacity for work. When, in the white robes and ribbons of our day, she shared the honors of her graduation class, we realized, albeit dimly, her unusual mental gifts. But it was upon our "Golden Anniversary Reunion," when she re-read the yellowed pages of her composition, "Rich, Rare and Racy," that our class pride soared beyond bounds. To actually see the girlish prophecy of "Brim," that "Woman would one day come into her own," embodied in her own splendid womanhood, was joy indeed!

Mrs. Bussey has filled many positions of trust and honor. When the two million dollar campaign was launched for her college, she was made county chairman, and also served in the same capacity during the Liberty Bond sales. She served her community as post-mistress for thirty years; she was for twenty or more years a steward in her own dearly-loved Methodist Church, where she is still the President of the Woman's Missionary Society.

A woman from her own city said to me recently, "It is to Mrs. Bussey that we owe our beautiful library." And indeed, it is because of her untiring and faithful work that Cuthbert boasts a fine Carnegie Library. She has sponsored two fairs, a gorgeous pageant, which delighted everybody, and, as President of the Third District Woman's Club, has been presented with the gift of a lovely silver loving cup in appreciation of her wholehearted service. The Redpath Chautauqua has called her "Mother of Chautauqua," so heartily and gladly did she support that movement in Cuthbert and Randolph County. Of the many honors accorded her, Mrs. Bussey values most of all the gift of the loving cup and the planting of a pecan tree in her name in Central Park by the Woman's Club. A prominent business man of her city says, "Mrs. Bussey is the biggest woman in Cuthbert!"

A devoted daughter, a wise, tender wife and mother, a loyal friend, a lover of her God and of mankind, Alice Brimberry Bussey will be a worthy representative of her beloved Alma Mater.

Mary Memminger Redding, A.B. 1878.

ALICE BRIMBERRY BUSSEY,
A.B. 1878

JULIA DELOACH VERNODY, A.B. 1887

(Mrs. C. A. VerNooy, Athens, Ga.)

In the good old Wesleyan days of 1887 every senior who had successfully passed her examination was entitled to read an original composition at commencement. It was a proud and important occasion for each senior, but rather boring to the audience that had to listen to the immature efforts of forty-five girls, so five of the class of '87 decided to vary the program by giving a debate on Frank Stockton's "Smiles and Frowns." It fell to my lot to waste my efforts on Frowns while Julia DeLoach had the more popular side of Smiles. Of course her side won—so she left Wesleyan with a smile on her face—and facing life with a smile she has accomplished much.

Julia (DeLoach) VerNooy has given much of her time and interest to Child Welfare, and is state chairman of the American Child Health Association May Day Committee, having been appointed to this office by Herbert Hoover. She has also held other various offices of vast importance to the state, among them being the following:

Co-chairman of the state pre-school work.

A director of the International Natural Education Association.

President of the Georgia Kindergarten Association.

Offices in the Inter-Racial Improvement Organization.

Leader in the League of Woman Voters.

Member of the Advisory Board of the Child Conservation League of America.

She is wonderfully equipped for her work with children. After taking a full course in kindergarten work she was a student at the New York Art League and Emerson School of Oratory, and attended courses at Columbia University. She spent a year in Europe where she studied Child Welfare in all sections of the world. By her efforts many an ignorant mother has been taught how to properly feed her child and the necessity for hygienic surroundings and out-of-door life.

At the recent meeting of the State Kindergarten Association, she as president, had drafted a bill which will promote this work nearest her heart,—that of preventing the tragedy of the child handicapped with physical defects, either remediable or irremediable. She feels that "parent training" and "a legislative program that removes the age limit and guarantees to every individual all the education he is capable of taking" are essential factors in securing happy and healthful childhood for the future generations.

She has proven the value of all of her ideals of child-training by practical experience with the children themselves. Her belief that "the personality pattern of the future citizen is laid out before he passes his second birthday" was cemented by an experiment that she made with her small niece in whom she created a knowledge of music and art by controlling the environment and storing her unconscious mind with the best in these fields.

Julia (DeLoach) VerNooy has never lost her love for and interest in Wesleyan and has visited her alma mater on several occasions, at which times she has inspired the girls there with her own high ideals and instilled in their hearts a desire to reflect credit on Wesleyan and to live up to the noble ambitions inspired there.

Annie (Anderson) McKay, A.B. 1887.

LINDA McKINNEY ANDERSON, A.B. 1893

(Mrs. W. D. Anderson, Macon, Ga.)

Like Queen Esther, her prototype of regal, efficient womanhood, Linda (McKinney) Anderson has "come to the kingdom for such a time as this."

A woman of rare culture and stately bearing, a student who has carried on ever since her college days, she has kept abreast of the progressive interests of her day and has been active in promoting the success of many of the greater movements enterprise by women in civic welfare, social betterment and Christian service.

She has occupied the following positions of influence:

President of the local Y. W. C. A. for two years.

Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Y. W. C. A.

President of the Vineville Methodist Missionary Society, 1912-1919.

Treasurer Missionary Society, 1923-1929.

Superintendent of Missions and Bible Study (During this time the group reached its high water mark, with 100 enrolled).

In 1928 she entertained the entire membership of Vineville Methodist Church in six consecutive evenings.

Treasurer of the National Alumnae Association three years.

President of the National Alumnae Association.

During her presidency the Alumnae Council was inaugurated and the beautiful ceremony of breaking the ground for Greater Wesleyan was successfully executed.

Occupying, as she does, a commanding social position with a home always open to her friends and the friends of Wesleyan she dispenses gracious hospitality, and it is there that the loveliness of her personality is most resplendent.

As a loyal alumna she has given liberally of her substance and service to her Alma Mater. Wesleyan has no better friend in Georgia than Mrs. William D. Anderson, nor one in a better position to render Wesleyan distinguished service.

Her husband is a generous benefactor of the institution. As a man of large experience and success in business and of genuine public spirit, he has contributed most liberally to Wesleyan of his time, counsel and money. service to Wesleyan, the honored name of Linda McKinney Anderson is presented to No friend of the College has done more than he to make possible the success of Wesleyan in its new environment and magnificent building program. Standing shoulder to shoulder with her husband, whose inspiration she is in all things, Linda Anderson's rare insight and clarity of vision enable her to comprehend the problems of big undertakings and the factors that enter into their hazards and successes.

Her gifted daughter, Linda (Anderson Lane, A.B. 1919, (Mrs. McKibben Lane) is an alumna of Wesleyan and also active in its service.

Mrs. Anderson has made the most of her rich heritage of character and native endowments and wields a far-reaching influence in city and state.

Friends and guests love to linger in the Anderson home for there the spirit of the old French motto: "Noblesse Oblige" is exemplified in the altruism of daily living.

As one standing for the highest ideals of Christian citizenship and exalted womanhood, and in position to render distinguished election as an alumnae trustee.

WESLEYAN AND MISSIONS

(Francis [Peabody] McKay, A.B. '25)

A golden chain of Wesleyan links might be traced through the entire session of the Golden Jubilee Session of the Woman's Missionary Society of the South Georgia Conference which was held April 1-4 at Mulberry Street Church, Macon.

From the opening of the meeting with Bessie Houser Nunn, president, in the chair, to the final brief history of Mulberry's part in the past fifty years of work, the names of Wesleyan's daughters stand out.

Three of Wesleyan's presidents were on the program. In his address on the first evening Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, former president and chairman of the Board of Trustees, spoke of the three Chinese sisters who had attended Wesleyan, caught "The Vision of a World-wide Need" and returned to their home-land to take their place as national characters. The Quiet Hour service was led on Tuesday by Dr. C. R. Jenkins, a former president; and on Wednesday by Dr. W. F. Quillian, present president.

Annie (MacDonell) Mathews, A.B. '80, is honorary president of the Conference and gave an outline of fifty years of Missionary Work in South Georgia. She mentioned Alice (Culler) Cobb, A.B. '58, Minnie (Bass) Burden, A.B. '74, and Fannie (Gilmore) Dessa, A.B. '78, as prominent pioneers in the work.

A beautiful memorial service to Tochie (Williams) MacDonell, A.B. '78, was led by Ella (Anderson) Clark, A.B. '62. Mrs. MacDonell was an outstanding figure at the Fifty Year Reunion of her class last year, just a few months before her death.

An interesting social event of the meeting was the tea with which the Alumnae Association entertained the visiting delegates at Wesleyan on Wednesday afternoon. The guests were received in the Grand Parlors, where punch and cake was served, and were then conducted over the campus by students and faculty members. This was a time of reunion for many, revival of memories for some, and great pleasure for all. Quite a few members of the Conference who are not Alumnae themselves have daughters at Wesleyan now.

An honor guest of the meeting was Kate Cooper, A.B. '03, missionary to Korea. She led the devotional service on the last evening when two Wesleyan students spoke on "Some Fruits of the Years." They were Sarah Fernandez of Cuba and Ada Lee of China.

KATE COOPER,

for 20 years missionary to Korea.

Mary (Hitch) Peabody, A.B. '95, was presented with a silver basket upon her resignation this year after sixteen years of service as Corresponding Secretary. She was succeeded in this work by Mattie Tarbutton Harris, which continues the unbroken chain of Alumnae who have held this office with the exception of one year. Alice Culler Cobb was the first to hold office, Fannie (Myers) Hitch, A.B. '68, preceded her daughter in the work for nine years. Aileen (Poer) Hinton, A.B. '12, was also recognized by the gift of a beautiful corsage upon her resignation after eight years.

Octavia (Burden) Stewart, A.B. '06, an outstanding District Secretary, presided at the final session of the meeting on Thursday night. Another prominent secretary is Carolyn (Kelly) House, '20, of the Columbus District.

Not only in Georgia but in Alabama as well the story of the Woman's Missionary Society has been largely the story of Wesleyan alumnae. At the fiftieth anniversary session of the Woman's Missionary Society of Alabama, held recently, President Quillian was a speaker. In introducing him, Mary (Robison) Hobdy, A.B. '93, honorary president, said:

"The Alabama Conference has just celebrated its fiftieth birthday and during thirty-eight years of the fifty, it has been under the presidency of women who were Wesleyan girls. Four of its recording secretaries have been graduates of Wesleyan, the present incumbent is one. And a cherished and long time Corresponding Secretary, Octavia (Andrew) Rush, A.B. '52, was not only a graduate but a charter member of the pioneer sorority, the old Adelphian Society at Wesleyan. A number of district secretaries also attended Wesleyan."

The presidents of the Missionary Society who attended Wesleyan were: Elizabeth Caroline (Thomas) Dowdell, '46, president for thirty years, and Mary (Robison) Hobdy, A.B. '93, president for eight years. Other officers were: Octavia (Andrew) Rush, A.B. '52, corresponding secretary for twenty-five years; Susie (Robison) Hobdy, recording secretary for twenty years; Mary (Robison) Hobdy, recording secretary for five years; Mary Carr (Gibson) Comer, A.B. '91, recording secretary for four years. Mary (McAndrew) Thompson, A.B. '01, recording secretary for five years.

The "Dowdell Memorial," established in 1927 by the Alabama Conference, honors Anne Whitefield Dowdell and Elizabeth Caroline (Thomas) Dowdell, who was one of the students at Wesleyan in the earliest days of its history.

ALUMNAE COUNCIL

The first Alumnae Council meeting to which alumnae were invited for a day and night in the college was held March first. Officers of the Association, class secretaries and local club presidents met to report on the work of the past year and to make plans for the future.

The Council met during the school year and in the midst of school activities for an express purpose,—in order that the alumnae might see the college as it is today, under normal conditions. Visitors were given a chance to go to classes as they wished, to attend a regular chapel service, and to see the gymnasium and the library "in action."

After chapel the first session of the Council meeting was held in the student parlors, with the subject "The Work of the Alumnae Association."

Members of the Council were guests of the college for lunch in the college dining room, and at 2:30 the second session was held on the subject of "The College Today."

At 4:00 o'clock they were given a tea in the Grand Parlor.

ALL-WESLEYAN DAY

The fourth annual All-Wesleyan Day was observed on Tuesday, March 26, 1929. A radio program was broadcast to Wesleyan clubs from WSB, the Atlanta Journal Broadcasting station. Students who were at home for the spring holidays met with Alumnae, and interesting meetings of local alumnae clubs were held.

ATLANTA

Atlanta holds its meeting not on All-Wesleyan Day, but in May. The Atlanta Club, however, got the use of the radio broadcasting station for All-Wesleyan Day and arranged the program which was sent out to all the clubs on that day. Those taking part on the program were: Rev. W. A. Shelton of the Board of Trustees, Lucy (Evans) Stephens, president of the Atlanta Club, Eleanor McDonald and Eleanor Stanford, students of the Wesleyan Conservatory, and Elizabeth (Jenkins) Reece, A.B. '22.

The executive board of the Atlanta Club met with Nannaline (King) Byrd in April to plan the May meeting. Officers, chairmen of groups and of committees were present.

The six groups of the Atlanta Club meet regularly. Group 1, of which Mildred Gower, A.B. '27, is chairman, is making a study of a number of authors and their works.

Lucy (Evans) Stephens, Nannaline (King) Byrd and Maybelle (Jones) Dewey were at Wesleyan for the Council meeting in March.

CARROLLTON

Sue Tanner is the new president of the Carrollton Club. With Estelle (Manning) Cantrell, president of the class of 1909, she attended the meeting of the Council at Wesleyan March 1. Since that time, the Carrollton Club has been busy with a series of meetings and activities for Wesleyan.

On March 7 they met at the Crepe Myrtle Inn for supper. On March 21 they entertained the high school seniors with a reception at the home of Sue Tanner. Estelle (Manning) Cantrell told the seniors about "Earning Your Way through Wesleyan." Aline (Bradley) Boykin talked on "Famous Wesleyan Graduates," and Isabella Harris on "The Wesleyan Spirit." Margaret Hearn sang the Alma Mater. A delicious ice course carrying out the Wesleyan colors was served.

On March 24, Estelle (Manning) Cantrell made a three-minute talk at the Methodist Church about Wesleyan.

On March 26, the club met with Aline (Bradley) Boykin to listen to the Wesleyan radio program broadcast from Atlanta.

GRIFFIN

Griffin alumnae met on All-Wesleyan Day and elected officers as follows: president, Gwendolyn Williams, '26; vice-president, Olive Dent (Manget) Bramblett, '24; secretary, Elmer (Grace) Newton; treasurer, Marie (Welden) Futrel, '28.

Little Alice Murray Crowder, who will attend Wesleyan in 1945, was elected mascot. The club plans to have quarterly meetings.

JONES COUNTY

The Jones County Club held its All-Wesleyan Day meeting at the Gray Music room, with a good attendance. During the business hour plans were discussed for having a benefit program for the Loyalty Fund.

Some facts about the college today were given by Mary (Finney) Stewart, Belle (Stewart) Wootten, Sadie (Stewart) Hunt, Lottie Bragg and Mary Jo Barron. Sallie (Barron) Ellis gave interesting reports from the Council meeting which she attended at Wesleyan March 1.

LA GRANGE

LaGrange alumnae held their annual meeting on All-Wesleyan Day at the home of Jewel (Faver) Glass, '10. Mary (Park) Polhill, president of the club, presided over the meeting, which opened with the singing of the Alma Mater, written by Margaret (Atkinson) Clark, a member of the club.

Mary Lou (Little) Bruce, A.B. '74, sang "Ave Maria" from the same copy of the song she used when a school girl more than fifty years ago. Blanche (Mallary) Binns, '18, sang a solo which she learned at Wesleyan, accompanied by Emily (Park) Herman, '23.

The following interesting articles were read: "The Loyalty Fund," by Winnie (Powell) Groover, '11; "Is College Today Expensive?" by Georgia Thomas, '21; "The New Wesleyan" by Florrie (Fulton) Thompson, '03; "An A-Grade Club" by Margaret (Atkinson) Clark, '18.

Helen (Ridley) Smith was appointed representative from the LaGrange Club to attend Wesleyan commencement this year.

MILLEDGEVILLE

The Wesleyan Club met with Josephine (Whitehurst) Rozar on April 2. There were ten Wesleyannes present. New officers elected are: President, Sara Lee (Edwards) Whatley; vice-president and publicity chairman, Jean (Oliphant) Rentz; secretary and treasurer, Sara (Hearne) Garrard. Milledgeville's representative at Commencement will be Sara Lee (Edwards) Whatley, A.B. '28.

Laura (Whitehurst) Rozar, president of the club, was present for the Council meeting at Wesleyan March 1.

PERRY

Wesleyan alumnae of Perry met March 27 at the home of Aurelia (Cooper) Evans, A.B. '24. Kate (Hurst) Davis, '08, read a paper on Wesleyan. Norinne Swanson, '21, talked on "The A-1 Club" and Martha Cooper, sophomore at Wesleyan, told of the difference between old and new Wesleyan.

All officers of the club were re-elected for the next three-year period.

SAVANNAH

Savannah observed All-Wesleyan Day with an enthusiastic meeting. The new president of the club is Marjorie (Rentz) Perkins, 1920, who succeeds Annie (Branson) Wright, 1901.

The Savannah Club entertained Wesleyan alumnae attending the Ga. Educational Association with a tea at the Huntingdon Club in April.

TERRELL COUNTY CLUB

The Terrell County Club met at the home of the president, Linnie Ella (Christie) Melton, A.B. '03. The home was beautifully decorated with iris and wisteria carrying out the Wesleyan colors.

Belle Cheatham, of the class of '79, the oldest living graduate in Terrell County, compiled the history of this club, giving a short sketch of each member. These records were read at the meeting, and will be presented to the alumnae office. Such records are valuable in completing the alumnae file and as interesting material for the alumnae magazine.

A comfort made of lavender and purple materials was on display. Each member of the club worked a square. The history of the club and the comfort, with the fund which was realized from the squares, will be taken to Wesleyan commencement and presented to the college.

Martha Lamar, president of the Student Government Association at Wesleyan who was at home for the holidays, told the group about this organization. Josephine Hunt of the Wesleyan Conservatory delighted the club with a reading.

The club will hold its next meeting in August.

THOMASVILLE

New officers of the Thomasville Club elected at their March meeting are: president, Flewellyn (Strong) Flowers, '04; vice-president, Laleah (Wight) MacIntyre, '16; secretary and treasurer, May Ainsworth '28; corresponding secretary, Eva (Luke) Hay. The club is planning to have a motorcade to Macon for local high school girls in order to give them the opportunity to see the new Wesleyan. Their enthusiastic meeting was held at the home of Flewellyn Flowers where a Buffet Supper was served and the Radio program was enjoyed.

TIFTON

The Tifton All-Wesleyan Day meeting was held on March 26 at the home of Linda (Hollingsworth) Short, with her sister Jessie (Hollingsworth) Walton and Eula (Miller) Massey as joint hostesses. Two high school seniors who are prospective "Wesleyannes" were present, Ruth Fulwood, daughter of Ruth (Vickers) Fulwood, and Frances Walton, daughter of Jessie (Hollingsworth) Walton.

The Wesleyan students who were home for the holidays played an important part on the program. Helen Holmes played a piano solo; Billie Hendricks, Helen Holmes, Eugenia McCartney, Bennie Bell Short, Rosalie Mitchell and Harriet Evans represented the girls of different years at Wesleyan.

leyan in the pageant written by Marjorie Royal. Mary Alice House played during the presentation of the pageant.

Elizabeth Winn, '25, registrar of Wesleyan, was visiting in Tifton and talked informally and interestingly of Wesleyan. The meeting closed with a "College Romance" in which most of the colleges of the South were named.

In the absence of the president, Vo Hammie (Pharr) Carr, Eula (Miller) Massey presided.

Marian (Padrick) Woodard, '21, Secretary.

WAYCROSS

Waycross alumnae had a tea at the New Hotel on All-Wesleyan Day. Martha Mayo and Josephine Lott, students at Wesleyan, were present and told about the new college.

The Waycross Club sponsored a picture show recently and sent a check for $25 to the Alumnae House Fund. Claudia Little, '92, is president of the club.

WRIGHTSVILLE

Alumnae of Wrightsville organized themselves into a Wesleyan Club of Type B on All-Wesleyan Day. The meeting was at the home of Julia Adelaide (McClatchey) Cook, A.B. '27. Lila (Lovett) Johnson, '28, is president of the new club. They already have committees for interesting high school girls in Wesleyan, and have sent in a corrected list of alumnae in Wrightsville.

EVERYTHING AND ANYTHING

DR. QUILLIAN ELECTED TO PHI BETA KAPPA

Dr. Quillian was honored by his Alma Mater, Emory University, by being made a charter member of the Georgia Gamma chapter of Phi Beta Kappa recently installed at Emory.

Among other alumni who were also honored were Dean Goodrich C. White, son of Mrs. Florrie Cook White, Wesleyan's matron, Dr. James Hinton, son of Professor J. C. Hinton, for many years head of the mathematics department and now editor of records of Wesleyan, and two Emory professors who have daughters at Wesleyan, Professor J. G. Stipe, father of Lellita Stipe, and Dr. T. H. Jack, father of Melissa Jack.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

Birmingham alumnae assembled at the Tutwiler Hotel March 7 to meet Dr. W. F. Quillian, president, and Mrs. J. T. Wright, field secretary of the college who were in the city for several days attending educational meetings. There are thirty-two alumnae living now in Birmingham.

MIAMI, FLA.

The Wesleyan Club of Miami entertained 287 high school girls in the graduating classes of the high schools with a tea at the Royal Palm Hotel early in May. Ruth (Houser) Garrett, A.B. 1918, is president of the club, and Carolyn (Knight) Dodd, A.B. 1915, chairman of the program committee. Together they planned to make the occasion such a memorable one that "Wesleyan would have to build a Miami annex next year."

Tiny Wesleyan seals were on the invitations, pictures and pennants of the college decorated the hotel. A short skit "Wesleyan through the Years" was given.

Elizabeth (Graves) Bethune entertained the Miami Club with a luncheon in the winter. Twelve members were present. Adela (Barkesdale) Ware, one of the number, writes: "We were all 'girls' again, and enjoyed hearing through Ethel (Barco) Jackson of the last commencement in the dear old college we knew and loved."

MEMENTOES OF EARLY WESLEYAN DAYS GIVEN COLLEGE

Two alumnae and the daughter of an alumna have recently sent to Wesleyan some cherished souvenirs of their college days which are being carefully preserved as historical material in the Alumnae office.

Minnie (Gresham) Machen, A.B. 1865, who shared first honor in her class with her friend, Clare de Graffenreid, and who is the only surviving member of this class, sent to the college catalogues for the years 1862-'63, 1863-'64, 1864-'65 and 1865-'66, a copy of the minutes of the second annual meeting of the "Alumnean Association" dated July 10, 1866, a copy of the Wesleyan Rules, the report of Miss Mary J. Gresham, dated July 12, 1865, and old programs for the years 1862-'66.

Mary E. McKay, A.B. 1878, gave Wesleyan her graduation composition, her class badge with the list of the class printed on the long white streamer, an invitation to the "Reunion of the Alumnean Association" in 1881, old reports and programs.

Marie Cole Anderson, daughter of Lula (Sasser) Cole, presented to Wesleyan the gold medal awarded to her mother in 1883 for excellence in music.

FUND FOR RELIGIOUS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

A $1,500 appropriation was given the Religious Education Department of Wesleyan by the joint committee of the General Education Board and the General Sunday School Board of the Methodist Church this year. The department at Wesleyan meets the requirements of this committee for this contribution, both in regard to courses offered and to training of the professor.

Miss Lois Rogers, A.B. '96, is head of the Religious Education department. Her graduate study was done at Northwestern University.

SON OF JUDGE CANDLER DIES

Major Asa Warren Candler, son of Judge John S. Candler of Atlanta died February 16 after a protracted illness. Major Candler was past commander of the Georgia branch of the American Legion. He is survived by his wife and several children.

Major Candler was a prominent attorney and business man of Atlanta. The faculty and student body of Wesleyan deeply sympathizes with Judge Candler in the loss of his son.

STATUE OF LANIER UNVEILED AT WASHINGTON MEMORIAL LIBRARY

Borglum's marble statue of Sidney Lanier, poet, musician, and soldier was unveiled at the Washington Memorial Library February 3, under the auspices of the Lanier Memorial Association, of which Dorothy (Blount) Lamar, A.B. '83, is president. This statue has been Mrs. Lamar's dream for some time, and it is largely through her personal efforts that the money was raised.

As principal speaker at the exercises, Edwin Mims, author of "Sidney Lanier and the Advancing South," and professor at Vanderbilt University, spoke on "Lanier, the Prophet." The statue was unveiled by Sterling Lanier of Elliott, Maine, grandson of the poet, and was formally presented to the city of Macon by Dorothy (Blount) Lamar in behalf of the Lanier Memorial Association.

The marble flooring of the alcove where the bust is placed is of pink Georgia marble, the gift of Venita (Tate) Anderson, A.B. 1890, sister of Colonel Sam Tate, trustee of Wesleyan.

BIOLOGY AT WESLEYAN

Adjustable side-wall tables, especially designed by Professor M. C. Quillian, form a part of the ample equipment of the new biology laboratories at Wesleyan. Prof. Quillian has applied for a patent on the new tables. The entire layout of the floor plan with its arrangement of desks and tables with their electrical and lighting fixtures, stone sinks with hot and cold water connections, receive from the most critical comments that are a credit to Wesleyan.

During the spring vacation Professor Quillian secured for the Biology Museum an interesting collection of Indian beads and human bones from the western mound in the Ocmulgee Fields near Macon. These have been arranged and photographed by him for the Museum.

The Biology Club met each month during the year and emphasis was given to protection and conservation in view of the important role in nature's economy of birds, trees, insects and flowers.

FRENCH GRAMMAR BY WESLEYAN PROFESSOR

Former students of Prof. Andre Beziat will be interested in knowing that the Johnson Publishing Co. has recently published a new "Laboratory Manual for the Beziat French Grammar" as one of its Lafayette Series. Dr. Beziat's "French Grammar" is already part of this series.

MISS RIVERS WINNER OF ART PRIZE

"Picnic," a block print by Miss Rosetta Rivers, head of the art department of the Wesleyan Conservatory, was awarded a prize for excellence at the second exhibition of Georgia Art held at the Davison-Paxon store in Atlanta in January. Miss Rivers also exhibited an oil canvas entitled "Sunny Lane" and Miss Anne Chenault Wallace, head of the department of oral English, exhibited an oil painting, "Beeches."

MONUMENT TO WRITER OF "SWANEE RIBBER"

A granite shaft to Stephen Collins Foster, writer of the song which has immortalized the Suwanee River, was unveiled by the donor, Charles J. Haden of Atlanta, October 27. Annie (Bates) Haden is a member of the class of 1888.

The monument stands in a park at Fargo, Ga., in sight of the travelers on the Georgia Southern and Florida line of the Southern Railway system. On the face of the shaft appears the following inscription:

Erected in Memory of
STEPHEN COLLINS FOSTER

At the Source of the Stream
Which he made immortal in Song
"Suwanee River"

ASA G. CANDLER DIES

Asa G. Candler, capitalist of Atlanta and benefactor of Wesleyan, died in the Wesley Memorial Hospital, an Atlanta institution which he endowed, March 11. Mr. Candler was the founder of the Coca-Cola Company, was a brother of Judge John S. Candler, donor of the Candler Memorial Library at Wesleyan and brother of Bishop Warren A. Candler, senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Mr. Asa Candler's gifts to charity amounted to several million dollars; on numerous occasions he came to the rescue of Atlanta and of the South in financial crises.

WESLEYAN TRUSTEE MADE CHAIRMAN OF HIGHWAY BOARD

IN MEMORIAM

ANNE (BOIFEUILLET) PEACOCK

Anne (Boifeuillet) Peacock died September 12, 1928, just two days after the death of Tochie (Williams) MacDonell, the president of the class of 1878, of which Anne Boifeuillet was a member. She was unable to attend the Golden Anniversary reunion of this class in 1928, but was not forgotten by her classmates who spoke often of "Nan," "Rosebud," "Gentle Annie," the nicknames by which she was called.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John T. Boifeuillet, of Macon. In 1885 she was married to John Asa Peacock and moved to Dublin where she spent the rest of her life. She was organist of the First Methodist Church for twenty-five years and while organist was instrumental in securing a gift from Andrew Carnegie that enabled the church to install its pipe organ. She was regent of the John Laurens chapter, D. A. R. She served at different times as State Registrar and State Chaplain. The annual year-book for 1928-29 was dedicated to her and carried a picture of her. She planned the Community Christmas tree that now graces the Court House lawn in Dublin, was the first society editor Dublin ever had. She was a splendid newspaper woman.

Her children are John Asa Peacock, Jr., Mrs. George P. Roberson of Greenville, S. C., Mrs. Annelie Brown, R. T. Peacock, J. M. Peacock and Mrs. Cris White. Her husband, one brother, the Hon. John T. Boifeuillet of Atlanta, and five grandchildren also survive.

MATTIE EDMONDSON

Mattie Edmondson, well-known Georgia teacher, former regent of the Samuel Reid chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, died March 27 at the Oglethorpe Infirmary in Macon, where she went for a major operation. She had recently returned to her home in Eatonton on leave of absence from her school work in Culverton, Ga., following a severe attack of influenza.

GEORGIA A. FORT

Georgia A. Fort, A.B. '60, died at the home of a nephew in Lumpkin January 22. She was an aunt of Laura (Fort) Forbes of Vienna, Mary Dudley (Fort) Colley of Grantville and Susan (Fort) Jeffries of Jacksonville, Fla.

It has been said of her: "She was a lovable, Christian character, a fine representative of the Wesleyan type of woman."

CARRIE LEE HOLMES

Carrie Lee Holmes, A.B. 1885, for forty-three years a loved teacher in Macon, died at the family residence on Forsyth St. April 13. Miss Holmes was one of the best-known teachers in the public school system. She was retired on a pension last year because of ill health. She had been seriously ill for some time.

She is survived by one sister, Leila (Holmes) Ridout, '92, and several nieces and nephews. One niece, Ellen Ridout, is a member of the junior class at Wesleyan and is editor-in-chief of the Watchtower, college newspaper.

EMMA (JARMAN) SPIVEY

Emma (Jarman) Spivey, A.B. '95, died at her home in Eatonton in January. She was active in social and church life of Eatonton, being a leader in the First Presbyterian Church. She is survived by two daughters, Emily and Laura Jarman, a member of the senior class at Eatonton.

LOUISE (LOGAN) CLISBY

Louise (Logan) Clisby of Macon died December 29 after a brief illness. She studied music and voice at Wesleyan. Her daughter, Helen Clisby, is a member of the sophomore class of Wesleyan and her aunt, Pauline (Logan) Findlay of Macon is a graduate of the class of '85.

MARTYLLE MORRIS

Martylle Morris, whose engagement to Dr. E. H. Barksdale of Nashville, Tenn., was to have been announced in February, died in a Macon hospital February 19. She was born in Haddock, Ga., in 1906, and lived there until she came to Wesleyan in 1924-25, when she made her home with her sister, Mrs. C. H. Bateman of Macon. Her death was a shock to her friends. She had been ill for a week with pneumonia.

JOSEPHINE (RUMPH) EVERETT

Josephine (Rumph) Everett, A.B. 1860, died at her home in Ft. Valley February 25. She was born in Ft. Valley in 1844, married James A. Everett December 16, 1861, after her graduation. She is survived by three daughters and two sons, thirteen grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

EMMIE STEWART

Emmie Stewart, A.B. '76, known affectionately to Emory boys for many years as "Miss Emmie" died January 12 at the home of her nephew, Dr. Stewart Roberts, in Atlanta.

"Miss Emmie" was born at the old Stewart homeplace, "The Hill" at Oxford in 1859. In 1903, she and her sister "Miss Sallie" took up their residence in the stately, many-gabled house in the center of Oxford, henceforth called the "Stewart House." They began taking students as boarders, and soon their dining room became famous, and Oxford boys considered themselves fortunate indeed to get a room in the Stewart House.

After Miss Sallie's death in 1925, Miss Emmie's health began to decline, and her death came after a long illness. Emory faculty and alumni all over the South were saddened by the passing of this second mother of many homesick Oxford boys.

ETHEL (TURNER) WILLIAMS

Ethel (Turner) Williams, A.B. '93, died April 17 at her home in Covington, Ga. She was a granddaughter of Bishop George F. Pierce, first president of Wesleyan. Her husband, Dudley Williams, was at one time superintendent of the Academy for the Blind in Macon, and is the brother of Tochie (Williams) MacDonell, A.B. '78.

Funeral services were held in Macon at the Riverside Cemetery, Dr. W. F. Quillian and Rabbi Marcuson officiating. Four members of her class who live in Macon attended the services in a body, Linda (McKinney) Anderson, Lula (Fulghum) Vincent, Jane Hendrix, and Minnie Robertson. Edith (Pierce) Alfriend of Sparta, her cousin and roommate for four years in college, was present, as was Minnie (Bass) Burden of Macon, daughter of Dr. Bass, president of Wesleyan when Ethel Turner was in school.

She is survived by her husband, Dudley Williams, one son, Francis, and two daughters, Ethel and Carrie.

HERE AND THERE

Hazle Evans, ex '30, is teaching in Nacoochee Institute, Nacoochee, Ga.

Eleanor McClearn, ex 1930, is specializing in dramatics at Florida State Woman's College this year, and is a member of the Kappa Delta Sorority. She writes: "I still love Wesleyan and look on that year as one of the happiest of my life."

Virginia (Conner) Hopson is recovering from a fall which dislocated her shoulder recently. She is one of the oldest alumnae of Wesleyan, being one of three living members of the class of 1857. The others are Loula (Kendall) Rogers of Tennille, and Rowena (Gunby) Mitchell of Atlanta.

Loula (Kendall) Rogers is planning to come back to commencement this year. In spite of an automobile accident last fall, she is still active and interested in everything connected with her Alma Mater. She writes enthusiastically of the meeting of Atlanta alumnae last year where she was an honor guest as the "oldest living alumna."

1862

Class Secretary: Mrs. J. O. A. Clark (Ella Anderson), 76 Arlington Place, Macon, Ga.

1865

Class Secretary: Mrs. A. W. Machen (Minnie Gresham), 217 Monument St., Baltimore, Md.

1870

Class Secretary: Alice Baxter, 826 Peachtree St. N. E., Atlanta, Ga.

1871

Class Secretary: Mrs. Hamilton Yancey, Sr. (Florence Patterson), Rome, Ga.

We regret that Florence (Patterson) Yancey has been ill for about 15 months with two nurses in day and night attendance.

1873

Class Secretary: Mrs. Thomas Peters (Kate Ross), 2750 Riverside Ave., Jacksonville, Fla.

We regret that Kate (Ross) Peters, secretary of the class of '73, could not be at Wesleyan for the Council meeting in March on account of an automobile accident last May which has left her in a weakened condition physically, but in no way injured her enthusiasm and love for Wesleyan. She writes: "I hope the reunion this year will be a big jubilee for every old girl present. Wish I could be on hand for the momentous occasion. Every now and then some old Wesleyan girl pops up with praise and pleasant remembrances of the old institution."

1874

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. F. Burden (Minnie Bass), Vineville Ave., Macon, Ga.

1875

Class Secretary: Mrs. L. J. Bradley (Lilly Johnson), Cartersville, Ga.

Sympathy is extended to Fannie Slade (Prescott) Ross and her family in the death of Edgar A. Ross, one of the oldest citizens of Macon. His death occurred at the home of his daughter, Viola (Ross) Napier.

1876

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. G. Solomon (Lillian Roberts), 218 Forsyth St., Macon, Ga.

1878

Class Secretary: Mrs. Washington Dessau (Fannie Gilmer) 301 Hines Terrace, Macon, Ga.

Fannie (Gilmer) Dessau was selected by her classmates to fill the place of Tochie (Williams) MacDonell as secretary of the class of 1878.

The Daughters of the American Colonists have established a scholarship as a memorial to Emily (Willette) Davis. From a fund on bond they have assisted one Wesleyan student each year for several years past.

Mr. Charles Davis, the husband of Emily Willette, has presented to the Atlanta Club, a contribution to the Alumnae Building in memory of his wife.

Mary Redding sent in the following class notes for her class:

"I was delighted last winter to see Jessie (Lane) Mathis. She lives in Americus, where she is much beloved by old and young. Jessie is widowed now, after an ideal marriage, but two sons, three daughters, and several lovely grandchildren are great blessings and comforts to her. Her brave, splendid son, John, Jr., fell on the fields of France, and a monument to the "white flower of his blameless life" is shown with reverent affection by Americus people. Jessie wanted to know "all about the old girls." The snows of winter are on her head, but eternal summer lives in her heart.

Alice (Brimberry) Bussey was delegate from Cuthbert to the golden jubilee conference of the Woman's Missionary Society, held in Mulberry Street Methodist Church in April. She is as efficient in church as in civic affairs of her town, so we had only a little glimpse of her, so busy was she, but that glimpse was exceedingly pleasant.

In the February number of the "Alumnae" we saw with sadness the notice of the death of Annie (Cheatham) Chitty last October in Ft. Gaines. Even as girls at Wesleyan we felt the quiet beauty of the Christian life of this classmate. We offer our truest sympathy to her three children, her brother, and the three sisters, who were also "Wesleyannes."

We have heard with sorrow of the recent death of Annie (Boifeuillet) Peacock of Dublin, Ga. She was ill for many months, and last spring wrote to an old class mate: "I should so love to come to our golden anniversary reunion, but I haven't the physical strength." May help and comfort be given her nearest and dearest who loved her tenderly. For her old classmates, she will always be our gay, beautiful "Nan." One smiles at the remembrance of her.

A recent issue of The Missionary Voice carried an Appreciation and Memories of Mrs. R. W. MacDonell, by Emily Allen Siler, former teacher of English at Wesleyan.

Some weeks after Tochie (Williams) MacDonell's death, the following letter was sent to Minnie (Bass) Burden by her brother, Dudley Williams, of Covington, for the alumnae who were Tochie (Williams) MacDonell's friends:

My dear Mrs. Burden:

Will you kindly convey to the Committee and the Association my heartfelt recognition of the generous words recorded in their beautiful appreciation of my dear Sister's life and work, and of the relation between her endeavors after righteous ends and Wesleyan's training and influence upon her achievements in the larger world.

No words could better define the ideal served in my Sister's life, and in the same degree, no words could better suggest the part which the college has had in the ideals and the service not only to her, but also to many, many other splendid women who have gone forth in a nobility of religious and high-civic activity.

The history and the traditions of the college are so long and powerful and benign, and inspiring that there seems a personal Motherhood in the dear old place: the offspring has been of a type hardly less than divine. To be of Wesleyan is to bear a title to respect for the deeds which are taken for granted in the graduate. I have a deep pride in your acknowledgment of my sister's membership in your past.

As Tochie passed away, Sister Agnes uttered a prayer which embodies for me and for all worthy Wesleyan alumnae, the highest ideal of life or death, "Tibi, Domine, commendamus animam famulæ tuae, Tochie MacDonell, ut defuncta saeculo tibi vivat." Those who taught Tochie Latin in the old Wesleyan halls would explain that the words convey more than a hope of life after death; they imply that in death the spirit of the saintly soul leaves behind the mortal impediments and goes to a service ever more effective and blessed and full of grace and truth.

In old Wesleyan Tochie learned to read those Latin words,—and along with the words, she learned from the spirit of her teachers their inner significance. And that simple little Latin motto is still in the spirit of Wesleyan,—if I may quote a learned and pious and active man of God who knows the college well, the splendid Rabbi Marcuson. When asked "In addressing the young people of the present day do you ever come within any atmosphere of that vital quality, whether human or divine, that gives a speaker the joy of utter responsiveness?" He replied, "Yes, in Wesleyan college. There I meet a response so vital, so genuine, so beautiful in its glory either of youth or of the high ideals of religious faith that I feel very, very happy. And, mind you, that responsiveness is no less a joy to me because the air of tolerance in the fine old place is utterly without compromise with a loyalty to the Evangelical Christianity of the institution."

I am moved in the deepest way by the words of your committee, and in your citation of my sister as worthy of the name and place you give her in your annals.

Very sincerely, Dudley Williams.

Class Secretary: Mrs. E. A. Douglas (Jennie Martin), Sanford, Fla.

Jennie (Martin) Douglas, secretary of the class of 1887, wrote recently: "I am sorry I cannot be there for the Council meeting March 1. It will be impossible for me to make two trips to Macon, and as I have planned to attend the reunion of my class in May, I shall have to forego the pleasure of meeting with the class leaders in March. I am anticipating the reunion as one of the real events of my life. I often wonder if we will recognize one another. I have seen only two of the girls since we graduated, and of course I can only think of the others as they looked forty-two years ago. That is a long time, but it does not mean that we are really old! Girls used to graduate younger then than they do now."

1888

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. F. Stone (Ida Lowrey), Blakely, Ga.

1889

Class Secretary: Mrs. J. R. Pitner (Allie Cleghorn), Summerville, Ga.

Minnie (Edwards) Akerman was in Macon with her husband, Judge Alexander Akerman, recently during the court term over which Judge Akerman presided. They have many friends in Macon and were delightfully entertained during their stay.

Annie (Laney) Watson's daughter, Frances, her husband, Rev. James E. Ellis and their little son James Watson Ellis from Santa Maria, Brazil, are home on a furlough and have been visiting Annie in Macon.

A prospectus of the "Copper Camp Mining Co., Inc." by William A. Edwards tells of the history of the mine since 1901. In the foreword is this tribute: "I cannot close this sketch without a tribute to the loyal and devoted wife who has stood shoulder to shoulder with me during all my years of struggle and hardship and without whose aid I would not now be in my present secure position. (Annie Napier Edwards, A.B. '89). Daughter of one of the oldest and most prominent families of the South, she did not hesitate to follow me into the wilds of Central Idaho and endure without a murmur a life as primitive as that of the early pioneers. When I had to face claim jumpers, horse thieves, outlaws and treacherous 'friends' her courage never faltered. She has taken literally and honestly the promise of loyalty 'in sickness and health, till death do us part.' Another happiness is the character of our son, who has grown up clean, dependable, industrious, practical and loyal. He has stayed with us and we three have worked together in a partnership which only death can break."

Anne (Napier) Edwards' great grandfather, Norburne Berkley Powell, was presented a silver pitcher in 1836 by the citizens of Macon for his efforts in the legislature which kept Wesleyan College from being moved from Macon. Mrs. Edwards' cousin, Virginia (Powell) Pickett, a Wesleyan girl and granddaughter of Norburne B. Powell, has the original pitcher with inscription.

"General Robert E. Lee after Appomattox" is the title of a semi-centennial memorial volume written by the alumni of Washington and Lee University and edited by Prof. F. K. Riley of the department of history. The chapter "Reminiscences of General Lee and Washington College" was written by Richard W. Rogers of the class of 1870, father of Lois, '96, and Miriam Rogers, '17, of the Wesleyan faculty, and of Dorothy (Rogers) Tilley, '01, Elizabeth Neal, '05, and Marion Rogers, '17. Since the death of Rev. Rogers last April these daughters treasure as one of their prized possessions a letter from Lee to their grandfather commanding the scholarship of their father when he was a student at Washington College.

Sympathy is extended to Eunice (Williams) Willingham in the death of her husband, Calder B. Willingham, of Macon. Mr. Willingham was a prominent business man of Macon, having been president for many years of the Adams Duck Mill.

Anne is a graduate of the nurse's training school of the Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami. Mr. Barnes is connected with the Miami Park Commission and has charge of the nurseries and the highway beautification.

Helen (Powell) Lang lives at 323 N. Harris St., Sandersville, Ga. Her husband is a member of the firm of Lang's Variety Works, and they have five children, one son at the University of Cincinnati. Helen says her hobby is "missions." She is now serving as state president of Christian Missionary Societies.

One of the finest church organs in the South has been placed in Mulberry Street Methodist Church, the gift of the children of Mrs. Eugenia Pate Stetson in memory of their mother. Edith (Stetson) Coleman, Eugene W. Stetson, and Mrs. James D. Stetson of Atlanta are the children who have made this organ a memorial to their mother. The instrument was made by the Skinner Organ Company of Boston and is equipped with twenty-one speaking stops and display pipes. Fannie (Singleton) Ogden, '95, is organist at the church.

Class Secretary: Mrs. J. E. Hays (Louise Frederick), Montezuma, Ga.

The class of 1900 sympathizes with Louise (Frederick) Hays in the death of her husband, J. E. Hays of Montezuma, February 23. Mr. Hays' health had been failing for several years, but until pneumonia developed a few days before his death, there was nothing alarming about his condition. His life was wrapped up in the development of Macon County. At the time of his death he was treasurer of the county, and he had been chairman of the county board of education, besides serving in both branches of the general assembly. He is survived also by two daughters who are alumnae of Wesleyan, Martha (Hays) Pinson, '09, and Louise Hays, '25.

May (Wilder) McClure is a government clerk in the War Department in Washington. She has been a widow since 1925, has three sons, the oldest married and living in Washington, the two younger serving in the hospital corps of the navy.

Class Secretary: Mrs. Malcolm H. Dewey (Maybelle Jones), 1071 E. Clifton Rd., Atlanta, Ga.

Fred. T. Barnett, brother of Loulie Barnett, teacher of music at Wesleyan, is one of the Secretaries of the General Board of Lay Activities of the Methodist Church South with headquarters in Nashville, Tenn. A pamphlet "A Log Church Wedding and Three Resolutions" written by him, gives a history of his parents' early married life, their struggles to make ends meet on his missionary's salary, and the rearing of five sons and one daughter, two of them becoming missionaries, one a dentist, one a minister, one a teacher at Wesleyan. Vida Barnett, niece of Loulie Barnett, is a freshman at Wesleyan, and has recently been elected president of her class for next year.

An article in the magazine section of the Macon Telegraph recently tells about a nine-year-old boy's Marionette shows. The boy is little Albert Walker, son of Fannie (Hill) Walker. He makes his own marionettes and stage settings, writes, directs, and manipulates his amateur shows. When the Wesleyan alumnae sponsored two performances of Tony Sarg's Marionettes, Albert was fascinated, and went behind the scenes to see if the strings of the real puppeteers were like his own.

During the last session of the legislature, Linda Mae Sullivan, music teacher, was superintendent and mathematics teacher of the high school during the absence of the school superintendent, a member of the legislature.

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. C. Cantrell (Estelle Manning), Carrollton, Ga.

Billy Quillian, son of President Quillian and Nonie (Acree) Quillian, was one of twenty-three Lanier High School boys to make an average of 90 in their studies for a period of three months. The boys were entertained at a luncheon by the Kiwanis club, and Billy expressed the appreciation of the boys to the club.

Sympathy is extended to Elizabeth Anderson, conservatory '25, Agnes Anderson, A.B. '28, and Donnie Anderson, student in the conservatory, in the death of their father, Dr. John M. Anderson of Barnesville in February. He was an uncle of Dr. Carl Anderson, Wesleyan's physician.

Elizabeth (Bragg) Sturdivant writes: "I like living in New York so much, especially in the section around Columbia University. There's not much for the housewife to do in the tiny apartments of New York City with all their modern conveniences. As a result I had to find me something to do to keep from getting lonesome while Harwell is away. I was real busy for the first month and a half visiting second-hand furniture shops, making curtains, painting furniture and other things that a bride has to do when she first starts housekeeping. It was so much fun! On November 15 I started to work in the zoology reading room at Columbia from nine to twelve in the mornings. It is in the department where Harwell is doing his research for his degree so I am thrown with the students and professors he knows. No one but the graduate students and professors use the library, and since they know as much about the library as I do I get off real 'soft.' We will have several years here yet. Harwell has accepted a place as instructor on Columbia's faculty for next year."

A long letter from Nell (Cooper) Bewig,

601 Lauderdale St., Selma, Ala., is chock full of news about Wesleyan girls. Of herself, she says: "I am such a busy housekeeper that time flies so quickly I can hardly realize it has been four years since I was at Wesleyan and three years since I became Mrs. Fred Bewig. I have a mighty sweet apartment and I love to keep house."

From "The Missionary Voice," January, 1929:

Mrs. Induk Pak Kim, the first Traveling Secretary ever appointed among foreign students by the Student Volunteer Movement, has started her itinerary which will cover six Mid-Atlantic for the period of three months. Through her addresses, group meetings and personal interviews, she will seek to interpret foreign missions to the students in the colleges and universities of Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Virginia.

Elizabeth Lewis is teaching at Lanier High School for Girls.

Dorothy McKay played a role in one of the plays, "Spite Corner," given by the Scott-Mansfield Players. Dot is teaching an overflow class in freshman English at Wesleyan this semester. And besides this, she found time to send one of her stunts to the Eldridge Entertainment House, which promptly sent her a check.

Kathleen Mackay, conservatory '28, left Macon in February to accept a position as one of the artists in the art studio of the St. Mary's Hospital, a unit of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. After a four-year course at the Central Technical School of Toronto, Kathleen graduated in '25 with honors. She entered the Wesleyan Conservatory the fall of that year, and graduated in art last June.

Kathleen has a brother who is at the Mayo Clinic on a fellowship. In April he goes to Chicago to become assistant to Dr. George Hall, the eminent neurologist. Kathleen has for some time been interested in anatomic art, and is fortunate in finding just the opening for which she has fitted herself.

Margaret Otto is supply teacher for Alexander Schools number 1 and 2 in Macon.
